Do you want to start a trampoline park? Then you want a full concept that offers a unique jumping experience and tons of fun. Playlife is one of the leading suppliers of trampoline parks worldwide.

With our concepts, you will surprise your visitors again and again!

One of the worldwide leading suppliers of trampoline parks

For over 25 years, Playlife has been one of the supplier for trampoline parks, indoor playgrounds and family entertainment concepts. From design to end product: Playlife creates unique concepts for every space and every budget. From Europe to Asia and the Middle East. You can find Playlife's indoor playgrounds all over the world!

The beginning is on the drawing board

The design of your trampoline park starts with a good conversation. Together with your ideas, our knowledge, experience and creative designers, we will create a trampoline park that will exceed all your expectations. After the conversation, our designers turn the idea into a 2D design and then into a 3D presentation. This way, every idea becomes custom-made and every trampoline park becomes distinctive. A unique concept guarantees success!

Safety & Regulations

The safety of your visitors is our top priority. That is why all our parks and playgrounds are constructed according to the latest safety standards. After delivery, we will ensure that the entire park is inspected and certified by an independent expert upon request.

Production & Installation

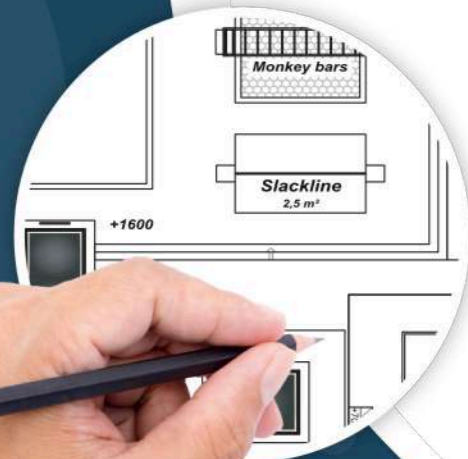

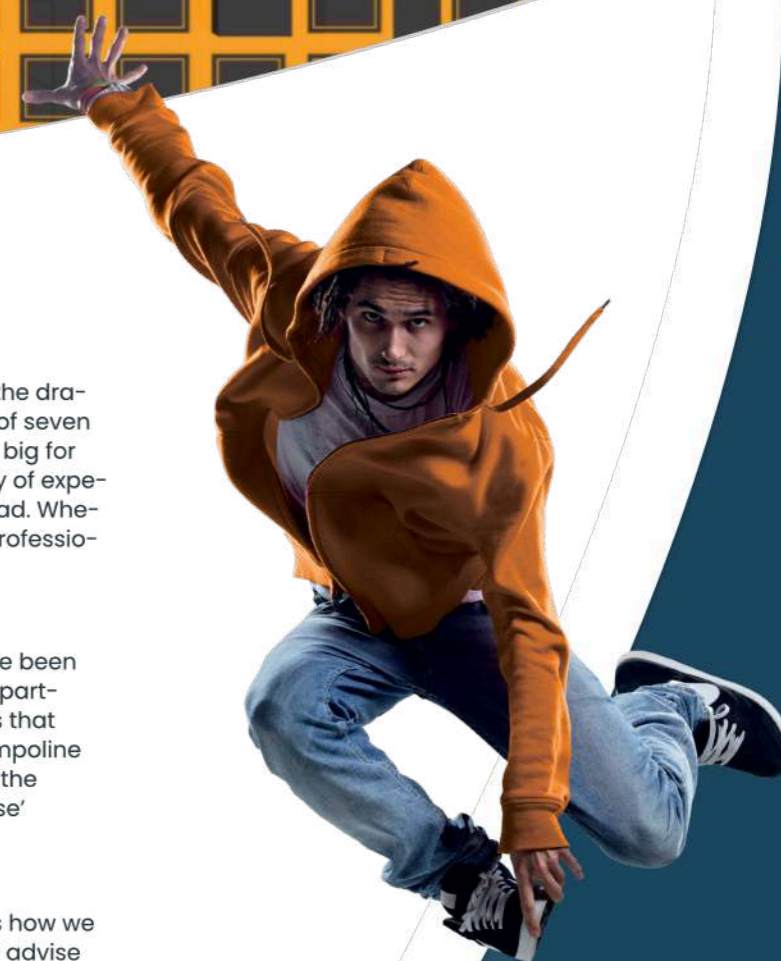

Once you're satisfied with the design, we work the drawings down to the smallest detail. With a total of seven production facilities in Europe, no project is too big for us. In addition, our field technicians have plenty of experience installing projects both locally and abroad. Wherever your location, Playlife will take care of a professional installation.

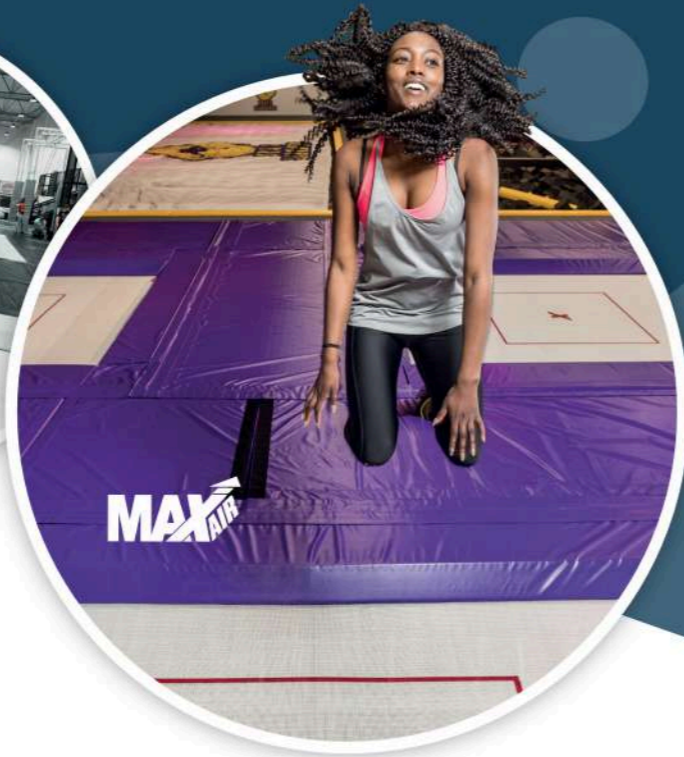

Top quality

The components we use to build the parks have been carefully researched and tested by our R&D department. We only work with high-quality materials that guarantee a long lifespan. For example, all trampoline pads are made of durable PVC canvas and all the trampolines are equipped with special 'no-noise' springs that make no noise while jumping.

Success formula

Playlife thinks along with you in all areas. This is how we develop your formula for success together! We advise you on the entire set-up of your location and think along with you on details that do not directly affect our portfolio and will make your business plan a success. Are you curious how this works? Just contact us for more information!
